The asterisk (*) wildcard can be used at the beginning, end or both (beginning and end) to search on partial part numbers. See the examples below.

The following is a search for any part number that contains the string "232807".

The screenshot displays the 'Parts Inquiry and Availability' web application running in Microsoft Internet Explorer. The browser's address bar shows the URL 'Parts Inquiry and Availability - Microsoft Internet Explorer provided by Freightliner Corporation'. The application's title bar is 'Parts Inquiry and Availability'. The main interface includes a menu bar with 'File', 'Edit', 'View', 'Favorites', 'Tools', and 'Help'. Below the menu bar is a toolbar with buttons for 'Menu', 'Back', 'Cancel', 'Tools', 'Execute', '60 Days Status', 'Create Order', 'Print Pricing Text', and 'Lead time'. The main content area is divided into several sections. At the top, there are input fields for 'Material' (containing 'BW 232807'), 'Sold-to' (containing 'FNGFD'), 'Ship-to' (containing 'FNGFDA'), 'Sales Org.' (containing '0301'), and 'Price Level' (containing '6/23/2006'). Below these fields is a 'Restrict value range (1)' button. The central part of the interface is a 'Search Criteria' dialog box. It has a 'Category' dropdown menu set to 'Material Number/Material Description'. Below this are input fields for 'Material description', 'Language key' (set to 'EN'), 'Material' (set to '232807'), and 'Version number'. There is also a 'Maximum no. of hits' field set to '500'. A 'Start search' button is located at the bottom of the dialog box. Below the 'Start search' button is a 'Search results' section with a table and a '0/0' indicator. At the bottom of the application, there are buttons for 'Predecessor', 'Successor', 'Together With', and 'Supersession'. A 'Supersession Active' checkbox is also present. The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows the 'Start' button and various application icons, with the system clock displaying '4:36 PM'.

This next search is to find all CRL (Carlisle Brake) part numbers with the string "4515".
